Standard exchange (renewal) of qualified/commercial certificate is exchange (renewal) of qualified/commercial certificate in the course of the last 30 days of validity of the previous certificate.

Extraordinary exchange (renewal) of qualified/commercial certificate is the exchange (renewal) of qualified/commercial certificate within a period longer than 30 days prior to the expiry of the previous certificate. The client may exchange (renew) the certificate directly in ČSOB Internetbanking 24 service application. The certificate exchange (renewal) cannot be executed in a branch.

Commercial certificate is always issued in a branch, and it is used by a client who is not using the ČSOB Internetbanking 24 yet.

Re-issue – in such cases the client may be charged by a separate additional fee:

- if the client has not managed to renew the original certificate via application prior to its expiry,
- if the client has lost/destroyed the original certificate,
- if the original certificate is still valid, but instead of renewing it via ČSOB Internetbanking 24 application, he/she comes to a branch to have it renewed.

The prices apply to ČSOB clients, while, in case of certificates, the client means a natural person with authorization for using of Internetbanking 24.

8. GENERAL PROVISIONS

8.1	In case of current accounts in foreign currencies the fixed fees are converted applying the current Foreign Exchange rate (exchange rate of the NBS foreign exchange market) on the day the fee is charged.
8.2	In addition to the fees and remunerations specified in the Price list, the Bank charges any eventual costs charged by foreign and domestic banks or by any other organisations generated in relation to the operation executed upon client's request, to the client's account, unless it is agreed otherwise in the particular case. In case of any additional costs of the foreign bank first after crediting the payment in favour of the client, the client's account is debited with the costs.
8.3	The bank is authorised to charge remuneration in the amount and in a way determined according to the agreement with the client for the services not specified in the Price list, with regard to the time necessary for execution of the required operation and the risk rate assumed by the Bank.
8.4	The fees and remunerations for banking services are fixed pursuant to the relevant contract on banking transaction, General business terms and conditions, as well as separate business terms and conditions for the particular transaction, usually in the currency of account, to the debit or credit of which the particular operation is executed.
8.5	Relevant VAT in the amount set by the Act on value added tax is added to the fees and remunerations according to this Price list.
8.6	The Bank charges remuneration for foreign currency conversion in the amount of difference between the exchange rate of FX purchase and sale, or eventually percentage remuneration specified in the relevant item of the Price list.
8.7	The rates with domestic banks and with branches of foreign banks operating in the SR can be agreed on a contractual basis.
8.8	In relation to foreign banks, the Bank charges remunerations for particular operation types pursuant to a special Price list.
8.9	Fees fixed for new products and services are valid from the day of provision thereof by the bank.
8.10	The Bank charges the fees for current accounts maintained for the client on the day of fee charging, namely in the amount and frequency pursuant to the currently valid Price list.
8.11	This Price list replaces the Price list for large corporate clients expiring on the day of effect of this Price list for Large corporate clients and Financial Institutions. This Price list comes into force and effect on 1 January 2015.
