 - b) for reason of a suspicion of unauthorised or fraudulent use of the Service or payment instrument; or
 - c) if such an obligation for the Bank arises from generally binding legal regulation.

The Bank shall inform the Client of having blocked their access to the Service and of the further procedure without delay, if it is possible. If in the case of blocking the Identification number the respective Client is still interested in using the Service, the Client is obliged to visit any branch of the Bank in person and to declare their consent to the Identification number change. The eventual change of the Identification number of the Authorised Person does not have any impact on validity of the Contract for Use of Service of the Installation Owner in the schedules to which the Identification number is specified. The Authorised Person is obliged to advise of the Identification number change of the Installation Owner. If the Bank comes to a conclusion that Identification number blocking is unsubstantiated and not necessary in order to protect the Client's rights in using Service, it is entitled to cancel the already implemented blocking of the Client's access to the provided Service unilaterally without the Client's consent.

THE TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR PROVISION OF THE ČSOB BUSINESSBANKING LITE SERVICE

51. The Bank is entitled to change the Terms and Conditions for Serious Objective Reasons (as defined in the ČSOB General Business Terms and Conditions). The Bank informs about the changes by publishing these documents in the operating premises of the Bank accessible to the public, at the Bank's web site (www.csob.sk) and by a specific written notice latest in one month before the proposed Effective Date of the change, if a generally binding legal regulation valid in the Slovak Republic does not specify another, shorter or longer period. If the Client does not notify the Bank before the proposed Effective Date in writing, that they do not accept the change, the new wording of the Terms and Conditions becomes effective as the Effective Date of the new wording becomes obligatory to the contractual relationship as a change of its originally agreed Terms and Conditions. If the Client does not agree with the changes of the Terms and Conditions, they have the right to terminate the contractual relationship immediately without fees. This right must be exercised before the proposed effective date of these changes. In case of using the right to immediate termination of the contractual relationship, the claims of the parties become immediately due and settled in accordance with the contractual and applicable legal regulations. If the Client does not agree with the proposed changes to the contractual relationship but does not terminate the contractual relationship before the proposed effective date, the agreement will be governed by the amended Terms and Conditions. A change of the contractual documentation that does not alter the rights and obligations of the parties and expresses only legislative and technical adjustments is not considered as a change in the contractual relationship and, in such an adjustment, the Bank is not a subject to special obligations connected with notification of unilateral changes and excludes the right of Client to terminate the contractual relationship immediately without fees.
52. The Bank reserves the right to unilaterally change the type and scope of the Service provided due to changes in the technical security of the Service and also due to changes related to the upgrading of the Services. The Bank shall inform the Client about these changes in accordance with point 51 of the Terms and Conditions.
